Jungles-Maffuccio Wedding in Lockport Church August 26

The marriage of Shirley Mae Jungles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Jungles, 159th street, Homer township, and Daniel Maffuccio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maffuccio, Pittsfield, Mass., was solemnized at a 10 o'clock high mass in St. Joseph's church, Lockport, Saturday morning, August 26 with the Rev. Frank Rausch, pastor of the church officiating.

Mrs. Edmund Kehlenbach played a program of appropriate music and Mrs. Charles Dimmick sang "Because" and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother", preceding the ceremony. She also sang the mass, "Ave-Maria", "Panis Angelicus", and "Mother Beloved" while the bride placed a bouquet on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Shirley, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue lace wedding gown over white satin. The bodice had an illusion neckline, trimmed with seed pearls. The skirt was full with a short train and she wore a fingertip veil. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white prayerbook adorned with a white orchid and streamers of Stephanotis.

Mrs. Stanley Jungles, matron of honor, wore white velvety over blue taffeta with matching mits and picture hat. She carried a bouquet of pinocchio roses and white mums. The bridesmaids, Phyllis Gustafson and Jane Skelton wore gowns identical to Mrs. Jungles, while Donna Rae Jungles, flower girl, wore white velvety over white taffeta with matching mits and bonnet and carried a basket of blue and white flowers.

Ralph Maffuccio acted as best man for his brother while the ushers were Stanley Jungles and Calvin Bismarck.

Mrs. Harlow Jungles wore an afternoon frock of peacock blue with cocoa brown accessories and a pink corsage.

A wedding breakfast was served to the immediate families and bridal party at Medill's White Fence farm. A reception at the Harlow Jungles home was held from 3:30 until 7:30 p.m. where the dining table, covered in white linen was centered by a four tier wedding cake flanked by blue and white candles in silver candle holders. Miss Helen Minkwitz poured. Mrs. Robert Dassenbrock cut the wedding cake. Miss Ellen O'Brien served the punch and Miss Betty Jane Washburn had charge of the guest book.

The couple left that evening for an eastern wedding trip. Mrs. Maffuccio is travelling in a beige suit with green accessories. Upon their return they will live at 217 East 11th St., Lockport.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Towshon, Miss Phyllis Gustafson, Miss Ellen O'Brien, Miss Jane Skelton, Miss Helen Minkwitz and Mrs. Stanley Jungles, besides the rehearsal dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Bismarck.

Since the article on the New Lenox school problem appeared in last week's issue of this paper we have received many letters, phone and personal calls from people who are vitally interested in the issue. Many New Lenox people said that they had never seen the petition we sighted and wondered what it was all about when we announced that a photostatic copy is available in the News Bulletin office in Mokena.

Many of our communicants regretted the resignation of Superintendent John Oster from the committee appointed to study the non-high school problems of this area. They expressed their appreciation of his handling of a difficult job and think he has done the best possible in the appointed work; they suggested that he be asked to reconsider his decision.

Other interested parties spoke of the lack of consideration shown the adjoining townships who need the cooperation of their neighbors; they said that the problem needed further thought because of what may develop here within the next 25 years and because of possible injustice to Frankfort and Manhattan townships.

Many people expressed their disappointment at the step taken prematurely and said it showed lack of courtesy to the school survey committee who are working hard with Dr. W. C. Reavis to find the best possible solution to the problem confronting them; they felt they should have waited for Dr. Reavis' report and his advice based on his study. It would appear that the Joliet board seems uncertain what steps to take and have called this well known adviser to help them also make their decision on the matter.

The education committee of the Joliet Association of Commerce has made a thorough study of the situation and voted to oppose this annexation now. The committee made this report to the board of directors but the board failed to take action on the recommendation. This A. of C. committee feels that action on annexation should be postponed until a later date because it might interfere with the formation of a unit district in Joliet.

It's Your Pocketbook!

The Hoover Committee found that two government agencies drew up plans for the same project at $250,000 each. Construction costs varied by over $75,000,000!

...YOU PAID DOUBLE! The Army's Corps of Engineers and Interior's Bureau of Reclamation compete for construction projects, the Hoover Commission found. They duplicate each other's surveys for the building of flood control, hydroelectric, irrigation dams... and at the taxpayers' expense! The Hoover Commission recommended that the Interior Department be given major responsibility for development of the nation's water and mineral resources. It recommended that certain other functions be taken from Interior and placed in different departments, such as land management in Agriculture. It recommended sensible organization of Government administration to achieve better government at a better price. Legislation necessary to put these recommendations into effect is up to Congress and the American people.

Expert Calls Slow-Poke Motorist Worse Menace Than Many Speeders

The slow-poke motorist and the heavy trucks that can do no better than crawl up hills are in many ways a blacker menace than speeders to highway safety.

That's the conclusion of J. C. Furnas, author of the widely printed "And Sudden Death", whose latest article urges that minimum speed laws be added to traffic regulations.

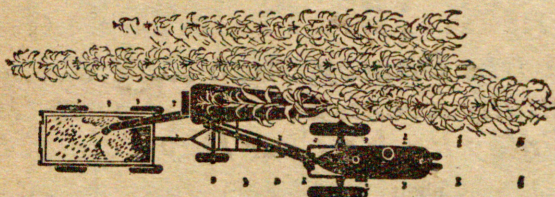

"The world of cars and highways," says Furnas in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, "must make up its mind that, contrary to older ideas, slowness is not necessarily safer nor speed, as such, dangerous."

Under the title, "And Creeping Death," the author reports on a recent 2,500-mile trip which was made to observe and estimate the proportion of motor accidents probably caused by dawdling drivers.

Admitting that "You can't prove it by figures," this expert points out that "since many accidents sparked by slowpoking do not involve the slowpoke himself, he may not appear in the official accident statistics. The exasperated driver behind who boils over, tries too risky a pass, and gets into a side-swipe, or head-on collision receives official blame—as he should. Yet, if the slow poke had not been cluttering up the highway, that foolish pass would never have been tried."

As a solution, the author recommends that all states adopt laws such as New Jersey's which requires drivers to operate "at a careful and prudent speed, not greater nor less than is reasonable or proper."

Furnas acknowledges that the answer to the slow truck problem is not so simple. He says that, "heavy, over-the-road rigs doomed to slowness uphill have become crucial cogs in the American economic machine. To handicap their operations would cripple the nation, but regulation could discourage the more flagrant sins."

"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God." (James 1:5). Read James 1:5-12.

One of the most pathetic of human beings is one with a highly trained intellect in the development of which the great eternal truths have had little or no serious consideration. In our civilization the crying need is for a genuine spiritual insight to bridge the too frequent gap between letters and life, learning and living.

Our future citizens as well as most of those now living need to learn the value of the things that determine our economic, social, and civic life. They need the wisdom and courage to champion those world-wide movements, policies and programs which will lift life levels. They need the Spirit of Christ to enable them to sense the priceless privileges and grave responsibilities of citizenship in our age. Other wise our generation will not be known for having made a substantial contribution toward the sum total of good in the world.

PRAYER

Our Father God, give us courage to voice and to live our convictions concerning right and wrong attitudes, policies, and programs affecting human welfare. Lead us to dedicate our resources of mind and heart upon the altar of constructive service to mankind. In His name. Amen.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George E. Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Just how much do you know about the taxes you are paying? We'll bet that you, like most Americans, would not win a quiz-show prize on the subject. You can see for yourself by answering the following questions:

1. Check one. When you buy a package of cigarettes, guess how much you're paying in taxes: a, 2½¢; b, 5¢; c, 8½¢; d, 10¢.

2. Complete this sentence. Ten years ago a married worker without children earning $50 a week paid no direct federal income tax. This year an employee with the same income pays a yearly tax of $.

3. If you bought a new car for $2000 today, how much of that $2000 do you think would be taxes (including the $91 in direct federal excise tax): a, $200., b, $350., c, $500 d, $650.

4. True or False? Hidden taxes paid to federal, state and local governments are a greater tax burden to the average employee than direct income taxes deducted from his paycheck? True? False?

5. Fill in this sentence. There are _____ press agents on the federal payroll.

6. You've heard a lot about socialized medicine. Right now, how many persons do you think can get free medical and dental care from our federal government through the veterans' administration, federal security agency, armed services and other agencies? a, 24,000 persons; b, 240,000 persons; c, 2,400,000 persons; d, 24,000,000 persons.

7. How many different taxes do we know are hidden in the price of an egg? a, 10; b, 100; c, 200; d, 1000.

8. Check one. The debt of federal, state and local governments is the highest in history, about 278 billion dollars. Spread evenly among every man, woman and child in the nation, this debt, per individual amounts to: a, $1.33; b, $18.34; c, $183.40; d, $1834.00.

Answers to Above

1. d, 10 cents. 7 cents federal, 3 cents State of Illinois.

2. $161 for the married man. A single worker with the same income paid $50 federal income tax in 1939 and $261 this year.

3. c, Between $350 and $466.

4. True. Hidden taxes are estimated to be greater than income taxes for families earning up to $5,000 a year. Over $5,000, income taxes are enormously higher.

5. 23,000 full time publicity and public relations employees.

6. d, Actually 23,938,600 persons 7 b, 100.

8. d, $1834.00.

Gettysburg Address -- Up-To-Date

One-score and 16 years ago our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

Now we are in a great mass of calculations, testing whether that taxpayer or any taxpayer so confused and so impoverished can long endure. We are met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with these men who spend their lives that they may spend our money.

It is altogether anguish and torture that we should go this. But in the legal sense we cannot evade—we cannot cheat—we cannot underestimate this tax. The collectors, clever and shy, who computed here, have gone far beyond our poor power to add or subtract.

Our creditors will little note nor long remember what we pay here, but the Internal Revenue can never forget what we report here. It is for us taxpayers rather to be devoted to the tax return which the government has thus far so nobly spent. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these vanished dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining; that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in a higher income tax bracket.

That this taxpayer, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions; and that taxation of the people by the Congress, for the Government, shall not cause our solvency to perish. — Shelby (S. D.) Record.

WATCHING THEIR FIGURE, SKATERS—At the Chicago Fair Ice Varieties, these seven belles on ice blades were willing to cut-up around a mammoth sundae created by Mrs. Ann Foster, winner of the national title for making the best soda and sundae. But none of the figure skaters dared to sample the thick, syrupy, whip cream concoction; they were watching their figures.

Tinley Kindergarten Enters 4th Year

A kindergarten, started for the benefit of one little girl, has become nationally known as the only farm kindergarten in this country. Because there was no pre-school group in Tinley Park for her daughter to join, Mrs. Leslie Johnson started what is now known as the Orchard Hill kindergarten. The school, entering its fourth school year, has received recognition from the National Farm Journal and has been written up at length in the Chicago Tribune.

Developing the idea of the valuable training possible for young children when they can study farm animals at first hand, Mrs. Johnson now has two horses, cows and chickens. One horse which led the cavalry charge in the pageant at the Chicago railroad fair of 1949 was purchased there after the fair. The children make friends with the farm animals bringing carrots and jumps of sugar for the horses and studying milk production from the baby calves on, finally visiting the bottling plant of a neighboring dairy company to learn the complete story of their chief food.

Thirty children are now registered in the school which will be open five days a week this year owing to the fact that Mrs. Johnson has been able to arrange for school busses to relieve her of taking care of the transportation personally. The school has monthly projects, trips to places of special interest and sleighrides. The pupils are under the best university graduate supervision.

Man of Power

Lesson for September 3, 1950

"I KNEW him when—" can be a deadly weapon. It has knocked down many a good man. Some one is being considered for a job, and he is just about to be accepted, when somebody sounds off with "I knew him when—."

"I knew him when he was a boy and he was a neighborhood nuisance. I knew him when he used to live here, Dr. Foreman and his family were no-account. I knew him when he was in school and he never had high grades. I knew him before he amounted to anything, so he can't amount to anything now."

A Case Against Peter

IT IS A GOOD thing the Christian church never took that attitude about the Apostles, and a very good thing they didn't take that line with Peter. It is true that he did not come out of the top drawer. It is quite true that when he was young he was no prize specimen. In fact, it would not be hard to make almost as strong a case against him as against Judas, if you take Simon Peter at his low point.

"Shall we keep Peter on our list?" Suppose you had been one of the other apostles and had been asked that question the night after the crucifixion. If you had not had a rather generous heart, you could easily have turned in an unfavorable report.

"Well," you might have said, "he has some good points. He is sometimes on the alert, never fails for something to say. But he doesn't always come through in a pinch. I understand the Lord took him up to the top of the mountain when he was transfigured, and what did that man do but go to sleep? Any of us would have given our right eye to have been there. But we never did get much of a story out of poor old Simon Peter. He was asleep most of the time."

"And do you remember that dinner when Mary poured all that ointment over Jesus' head? It was a beautiful thing for her to do. I mean her motive was beautiful. But Peter complained about it."

"Then there was the night—only last night, but it seems a year away—when Jesus took Simon Peter and those two others into the garden with him. All the Master wanted was company. But old Peter was asleep again in no time."

"But that's not the worst. Last night at the supper table Peter bragged about how brave he was—got out a couple of swords in fact—and he swore that even if every one else denied the Master, he wouldn't. But just before cock-crow he showed himself up for a liar and a coward. Some girl, just a girl, mind you, somebody out of the kitchen, said she knew he was a friend of Jesus. And this Peter starts swearing in the ugliest kind of language that he never knew Jesus, his very best friend."

"Well, Judas hanged himself, and Peter might as well . . . I don't see how he can possibly hold his head up again after last night."

Man of Power

NEVERTHELESS, Peter became a hero, a man of power. Look at his story in Acts 2-5. A recognized leader of the Christians, defying the very men of whom he had once been so afraid; honest, rock-ribbed, standing up for the Master when it meant risking his life to do so.

Even if you could not believe the miracle-stories which are told about him in Acts, you would have to admit that it is not every man who has miracle-stories told about him.

It is no weakening who has the reputation of being able to raise men from the dead and to kill liars with a glance of the eye.

Transforming Secret

WHAT WAS the secret of Peter's transformation from the half-braggart, half-coward he used to be, to the stalwart fearless man of power he became? The answer is in those stories in our Scripture readings from Matthew and John.

The first tells of Jesus' faith in Simon Peter. The second tells of that again, and also of Peter's response to Jesus' faith in him. It is the secret of any Christian's success in being all that God knows he can be.

Farm Head Urges Favorable Vote on Gateway Amendm't

One of the chief hopes downstate citizens have of bringing about needed reforms in the state constitution is to pass the Gateway amendment, Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, said.

The Gateway proposal would furnish a practical method of amending the constitution. Shuman urged everyone to vote in favor of it in the general election November 7.

The reason passage of Gateway is needed is because the present constitution is so inflexible Shuman said.

To prove this, he pointed out that since 1891, only two amendments to the constitution have been adopted. The last one was adopted 42 years ago.

"Downstate has also tried to get amendments adopted, but each effort has failed," Shuman said. "Progress through constitutional changes should not be denied Illinois citizens by an ironclad, practically useless amending process."

The IAA president warned voters that the word "Gateway" will not appear on the ballot used for voting on this amendment. This special ballot will be blue, however, and the voter's attention will be called especially to it.

If the Gateway plan is passed, future amendments would then carry if they received a majority of all votes cast in the election, or two-thirds of those voting on the proposition, whichever is less.

Under the present constitution an amendment must receive a majority of all votes cast in an election. "This means," Shuman said, "that lazy or disinterested voters can defeat a needed amendment simply by failing to vote for it. For failure to vote is a vote against the amendment."

This was the case when the last Gateway amendment was voted on by the people in 1946. There were 1,273,653 votes for it to 368,108 against. The total state vote was 3,619,322.

"So 77 per cent of those voting on the amendment voted favorably, but they represented only 35 per cent of the total votes cast in the election. Therefore, the amendment failed because the present law says an amendment must receive a majority of all those voting in an el-lection to be adopted." To help prevent this condition from happening again, Shuman said, the IAA and the County Farm Bureaus are throwing their full weight behind the Gateway amendment. The IAA is the state Farm Bureau organization with 176,000 farm family members.

Don't Neglect Your Hay Fever and "Summer Colds"

by FRED W. WITTICH, M.D.
Chairman, International Association of Allergists

THE sneezing and sniffing that begins this week for millions of hay fever sufferers is a warning to one out of every two of us. More than half the U. S. population has some form of allergy, which, if ignored, often develops into more serious conditions. This can be avoided, however, because new methods of treatment are dramatically effective in coping with these annoying allergies.

The standard treatment for allergy has been the avoidance of whatever it is you are sensitive to and "shots" that immunize you against the offending agent. More recently, however, medical research has turned up drugs that are making the lives of many allergy sufferers more livable.

During the past year, we have confirmed the fact that the antihistaminic drugs, properly used, can provide considerable relief to most sufferers from allergy. Medical evidence indicates that almost 50 per cent of allergy victims, especially those suffering from hay fever and hives, will obtain spectacular relief from these drugs. Another 30 to 40 per cent will get at least partial relief.

Actually, these drugs have been known for some time to the medical profession, but the first chemical used produced side effects, such as sleepiness and drowsiness. The newer drugs in this field, however, have proved remarkably free from these side effects and have been used with complete safety by millions of people.

These are the same drugs which were made available to the public for use in treating the symptoms of the common cold this year, and which have attracted so much comment both pro and con. As to their effectiveness, there is no doubt that in most allergic conditions, there is release of a substance which doctors call H-substance or more loosely, histamine which is largely responsible for symptoms. It is now clear that the antihistaminic drugs do block the action of histamine on the system. Innumerable experiments have proved that when the antihistaminics are administered the effects of histamine are counteracted and the allergic symptoms are greatly relieved if not completely eliminated.

The discussion this year around the antihistaminics has centered largely on the question of safety. There have even been rumors that these drugs have actually harmed people. I think my experience and that of allergists is in accord with a statement recently made by Dr. Morris Fishbein, former secretary of the American Medical Association, who reported recently that he had not seen an actual case in which these drugs have ever done any harm. Said Dr. Fishbein, "I am unaware of any scientific verified published evidence or unpublished evidence of harmfulness."

Take for example the case of Neohetramine, the drug known to the public as Anahist. Recently Dr. Harry E. Tebrock, Medical Director of Sylvania Electric Products, using this drug in 3500 cases in a cold study, found only 2 per cent of the people showing any side effects, and these were, as he put it, no more serious than the effects of a common cold. In another experimental study, this drug was given in doses of 500 milligrams a day to patients every day for six months. Drs. Judd and Henderson of the Pennsylvania State Department of Health, Hamburg, Pennsylvania, reported not a single untoward effect in any of these patients. In another experiment this drug was given to a series of 232 children from 6 months to 12 years of age, again without any untoward side effects. It was only after these and similar tests that this drug was released to the public.

Other antihistaminics, such as Chlor-Trimeton, Perazil, Benadryl, Pyribenzamine, Thephoran, Decaryn, Neo-Atargan, Hydrylin, Histadyl, Pyrrolazate, each have similar wide experimental backgrounds though they are available on a doctor's prescription.

Another new development available to the sneezing, sniffing public this season is the use of antihistaminics in an Atomizer that applies the medication directly to the effected parts of the nose. The medical profession has long known that fine sprays are sometimes even more dramatic and immediate than internal medication which has a slower though more sustained action. However, most of the drugs that we have used in nose drops or other internal medication have been suspected of adversely affecting the lining of the nose or excessively stimulating the central nervous system. The antihistaminics do not have these properties and may therefore prove a real boon this summer to hay fever sufferers.

With the 3-way treatment now available, avoidance, immunization and symptomatic drug therapy, we are well on our way to effectively controlling allergy. The big danger now is that people who have allergy will neglect it. Doctors now see only from a fourth to a third of all allergies. And recent evidence seems to indicate that untreated hay fever, for example, or allergic skin conditions may in many cases develop into serious asthma.

IN MEMORIAM

CAPPEL, John—In loving memory of our father who passed away eight years ago August 29.

The days have gone, the months have too,
Its eight years since the Lord took you
We whisper softly by your grave
We speak of happiness that once you gave,
You are so far and yet so near
We miss you more each day and year.

WALTER, RUTH and JON TERRY

NEW LENOX SCHOOL ISSUE—

liet and because it may not be practical and feasible for Joliet.

The New Lenox polling places will be located in the Grace Episcopal church basement and in the fire station building, when on September 9 New Lenox voters will express their opinions on this most important question:

In view of the above facts this paper feels it would be best to vote on joining the Joliet Township high school district at this time.

Lawrence Kohl, chairman of the School Survey committee which was set up by the Boards of Directors of New Lenox, Frankfort and Manhattan townships has advised this newspaper that in response to the communication from John Oster, superintendent of New Lenox schools, he has urged the New Lenox school man to reconsider his expressed intentions of withdrawing from the committee and that he hoped that the New Lenox school directors also would urge him to stay on the committee.

Last week Mr. Oster advised chairman Kohl that as a protest against the action of those petitioners of New Lenox township who requested the County Superintendent to call an election on the annexing of New Lenox township to Joliet Township High school before the District Survey committee was ready to submit a report, he was asking to have his resignation from the committee accepted.

In his communication to Mr. Oster, Mr. Kohl said, "I feel and I am sure that our entire committee believes that many of the signers of the petition must have signed the petition without realizing it was unsuitable to do so at this time."

"The New Lenox people are now going to be forced to vote on a matter before all the necessary information is available for them to use good judgment in the issue. All they have is the viewpoint expressed by the JTHS authorities. Our committee is still uncertain as to why the High School powers are so interested in annexing our territory."

"As a farmer and landowner I am as interested in the taxation problem of good education as are any of the New Lenox people. I know you are correct in pointing out that the present Joliet tax rate can not be fairly used in figuring the comparative costs of your township being in the Joliet school district. When all the proposed changes are made in the JTHS the tax rate will be very much the same as they would be in a new school district. It seems to me your neighbors would like to have more voice in how tax money in the amount of $80,000.00 each year is to be spent. Of course much the same thing is true of Manhattan and Frankfort townships."

"I believe that your appointment on our committee was fortunate. You are the only professional educator on the committee. We hope that you will wait until the issue is voted on Sept. 9 before resigning."

If New Lenox should not favor annexation to Joliet you can be of much assistance to us."
